Language Arts: Students will learning about conjunctions and interjections. Does this bring back memories of School House Rock?! We are reading Because of Mr. Terupt and students comparing and contrasting characters. Finally, students are continuing their book club work. They seem to really enjoy their book clubs! In writing we are working on Memoir writing and students will begin to write their own Memoir.

Science: We are continuing to look at how applying varying degrees of force to model cars has an impact on the distance and speed. We will also ponder if adding weight has a direct impact to the distance a car can travel?

SS: This week we will learn about the various divisions of labor and different economies; command, traditional and market.

Math: We will continue to work on how to write decimals to the thousandths using base ten numerals, number names and expanded form. We will have a test on this, Standard 5.NBT.3, on Thursday, October 5.
